A Bachelor Dream

One night when I lay sleeping,
I had a dream [illegible]
Methought I had a charming wife
And [illegible] little [illegible].
Oh who in all the world was there
More happy than myself,
Possessed of [illegible] a lovely wife
And prattling little elf.

[illegible] I hugged, I kissed them,
[illegible] them whole;
When my little [illegible] got angry
My wife began to scold;
The [illegible]
The [illegible]
I hugged it all the tighter—
I thought it lots of its p[illegible]

My child was still uneasy,
My wife began to weep,
And [illegible] a scream terrific
Awoke me from my sleep.
My face was scratched in pieces,
Plague [illegible] the little [illegible]
My wife she was a pillow,
My baby was a cat.

Passage from New York to Portland

(Concluded.)

The whistle calls us to the train, and we move over that wonder of wonders, the Panama Railroad. We shudder, as we cross the death-bearing river, formerly the high-way to the Golden State, and, for a moment, we grow sober as we think of the sons of "Green Erin" to whom this Isthmus proved so sorry a Golgotha, in the days of the road-building. The darkness hides from our sight the tropical luxuriance that we so long to see, and, consequently, the reader is spared a tedious description—the only point in which we resemble Dickens.

We fall in with a Navy Lieutenant, who has been a year upon the Pacific, and who is to return home upon the next steamer. He is jubilant at the prospect of seeing Mrs Lieutenant and Lieut Jr., then for a brush with the privateers. He makes the time jolly, until we reach the Uncle Sam. The 'Star Spangled Banner' is sung in honor of the name, and we are off for the North. Acapulco, with a beautiful Bay, next receives us. We reach the shore in time to attend mass at the primitive old church, which is filled with Mexican beauties, kneeling, casting sly glances at the strangers, and doubtless praying that we may be delivered into the hands of their rapacious lords, a petition to be answered. We next step within the door of the school room, in which are gathered some two hundred of the rising generation. The domino sits at ease, in his shirt-sleeves, on one side a stick for the benefit of rebellious young parties, on the other, a glass of lime-water, "with a stick in it," which, we take it, is not for the benefit of said parties. We four valiant young men make an onset upon the Fort; we pass the outer wall, and are entering the inner gate, but a very villainous looking fellow charges at us, with a rusty old bayonet, crying out something that sounds much like that inelegant but expressive Western word, 'shab;' though neither 'hair stands erect nor tongues cleave to jaws,' we come to a rapid 'about' much to the amusement of some nude youngsters near by. But the signal gun is heard and we are off.

A privateer!! A general tumbling from berths, by the masculines, and a rush for the forecastle; guns are loaded and we bear down upon a craft that is very suspiciously lying-to across our bow. False alarm—nothing but a Mexican trading vessel, the crew of which laugh, as we discharge our pieces after passing. From this time on, we lay aside all fears of Jeff's sea rovers, and sail sleepily along until we enter the Golden Gate and thriving metropolis of California. Here, freed from Caliban-like cramps and pains, for a day we have dust and fruit ad nauseam, from which we take refuge on the crazy old Nevada, to enjoy the roughest trip of the season. We vote the 'peaceful ocean' a sad misnomer, as we cling to the rail with both hands and propitiate the sea Deity, in the usual way, and we qu[illegible]n lon[illegible] for the mouth of the Columbia said to be so awful of entrance. Our idea of it is formed from Irving's 'Astoria,' and how disappointed are we, when the pilot takes us in as easily as the would into New York harbor.

A year ago to-day, on the Upper Mississippi, near Fort Snelling, we stood beside an old house, formerly one of Astor's trading posts, and here, thousands of miles from that, is another long, low building, telling the same story of one man's energy. We wonder if our English Bishop, on board, bound for Victoria, can't appreciate such enterprise, turn up his nose as he may, in the regular John Bull style. But while we soliloquize, we reach this thriving little city of Portland. We step on shore, wishing our meanest enemy nothing worse than a month at sea; and now, as in gallantry bound, taking off our hat to Hood, we recline at ease, and see the sun sink down behind the hills that lie beyond our homes.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your s d r must say

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT 5, 1861

The latest Invention of the Enemy

From the commencement of the present civil war, the secessionists have had a party in the North that has seconded their every effort to carry out their purposes The first scheme was to oppose "coercion" at the North, while the seceders were robbing the Government of its property After the Union-men had been sufficiently cowed and demoralized by witnessing these rebel triumphs, the seceding States were to be invited back by concessions greater than they ever demanded while they themselves had hold of the reins of Government. All the sympathizers backed these two propositions No coercion,—any compromise to prevent war.

When it was found that the Unionists were bent on preserving the Government just as it was; the sympathizers argued that wherever there was no state of war existing, that no Union demonstrations should be made because it might breed bad blood on the part of the traitors To this end the various Union military organizations on this coast were ridiculed as unnecessary, and the members of them as being desirous of showing off their courage at a cheap rate. All Union demonstrations were for the same reason called "cheap displays of patriotism" The existence of the bloody, murderous, cowardly, treacherous, and thieving band of conspirators known as the Knights of the Golden Circle, was denied, so far as its existence on this coast,—and particularly in Oregon,—was concerned, when it is known that these imitators of the Thugs are amongst us, and are engaged every day in peddling out their venom Their secrets are known, and their police prepared against, but they are none the less murderers, because they have not carried out their obligations. Every man of them is a traitor, and would commit murder if the chance were offered, Yet the sympathisers are friends of these men, and they co-operate with each other The next dodge then, was. Keep the Unionists from organizing, while we prosecute our designs Could Jeff Davis have asked for more, if he had dictated the course of the sympathizers? This part of the programme meant Wherever we secessionists can whip the Union men we are for war, and wherever they can whip us we are for peace, in the meantime we will organize secretly while we beg you not to organize publicly,—not to organize at all.

To the innumerable insults which have been heaped on our once proud and happy country, defeat has been added And now, in this hour of humiliation the sympathizers ask the Federal Government to enter into a dishonorable compromise with traitors, now jubilant over a temporary success. If this most contemptible and pusillanimous policy could be forced on the Union men they would indeed deserve the opprobrious epithets which the traitors at the South have bestowed on them. If this policy is adopted the banner of the Stars and Stripes will be looked upon as the insignia of a nation of cowards! and if the soldiers of the Union cross the Potomac with arms reversed, we shall deserve it. It will be a day of ineffaceable disgrace to the American name It will be the commencement of an era in which law will be deprived of its efficacy, and in which the will of desperadoes will be substituted for the will of the majority Elections will be of no effect unless traitors, treasury-robbers, and their sneaking minions at the North are the fortunate candidates. The favorite chivalry amusements of cutting and shooting, tarring and feathering, mobbing and lynching, repudiating and stealing, will become nationalized, and the homely virtues of thrift, frugality, and honesty will be abolished.

The peace party designs to force upon the Government the acceptance of a compromise, the principles of which have been rejected by more than three-fourths of the voters in the Union and which no patriotic Southern men have ever asked for. We do not fear the success of this piece of treachery, but have some apprehensions lest it may embarrass the action of the Union men for a time. But of this the sympathizers may rest assured: The war will be prosecuted to the bitter and bloody end, and if the cowardly assassins the K G C s, who lurk in Oregon, give any sufficient cause for trouble, they will have it brought home to them.

We know that we speak the unanimous Union sentiment of this State when we say no compromise with Southern traitors—anything to satisfy the Southern patriots. And as to the Union, we cannot better express our own feelings than by quoting the language of a democratic Representative to our own State Legislature, as uttered by him in this office "I hope this war will not end until the supremacy of the law is everywhere vindicated I am opposed to all compromises with traitors I would rather witness the annihilation of my country than to see her break up into miserable fragments, for I choose to be buried under the ruins of the Government, rather than to witness its disgrace"

THE PLAN OF BATTLE.—Gen McDowell, in his official report of the late battle, says his intention was to turn the enemy's position at the Junction by the right, or North, and seize the Virginia Valley Railroad, beyond Manassas, and thus prevent Gen. Johnston's coming to Beauregard's assistance He would then have placed himself between Beauregard whose retreat would have been on Richmond, and Johnston, who would have been forced on a difficult line of retreat, with the Blue Ridge between him and Beauregard Gen McDowell asked, and calculated, that Gen Patterson would keep Johnston engaged by an attack on Winchester, or at least that he should not be allowed to come through Manassas Gap, in the Blue Ridge—to cover the enemy's left at the Junction, and reinforce him Gen. Patterson did not attack General Johnston, and we have almost a repetition of Waterloo and Wavre; with this exception: Grouchy did attack the Prussians at Wavre according to orders, but did not take the responsibility of making a flank movement and joining Napoleon at Waterloo, leaving the Prussians to effect a junction with Wellington, by a longer and more difficult route. Johnston had the best means of effecting a junction with the Confederates at Manassas and in consequence, General Patterson was expected to engage him at all hazards

WHAT IT COMES TO AT LAST.—The Statesman of last week, has a lengthy and well considered article, in which the idea is put forth that the present war springs from the habits engendered by the manner of living at the South and thinks that until the cut-and-shoot gentlemen are pretty well killed off down there, that we will have no peace Perfectly true The morale of civil war, is that those who resist the operation of the laws shall be killed; and it has ever been the case in wars of this kind, that enough of the traitors have been killed to intimidate the balance and compel them to obedience

DESERTED —The San Francisco Times has been for several years a leading Republican paper, and while doing much service among the Republicans by its vigor and boldness, has often prevented the spread of their principles by ultra ill-timed articles However its services are estimated, the Times was always considered true to the party; but on the 27th of August, to the utter astonishment of the San Franciscans it came out with the name of John Conness for Governor at its head. The Republican State Central Committee say that the Times tried to extort money from them. They warn it to take down the names of the remaining Republican candidates from its columns

MIGHT HAVE BEEN EXPECTED —The Democrat complains of the rejection of [illegible] Smith at the West Point Academy —for lack of the necessary preparatory education If his acquirements were not above the standard of the Joe Lane editorial school of this State, his rejection was a matter of course The orthography of the Union, the grammar of the Democrat, and the loyalty of the Advertiser, would scarcely pass muster at West Point

CHANGED ITS NOTE —A secession journal up the valley promises to publish an abolition sermon, recently delivered at Albany, as proof of the sanguinary intentions of the Administration This is the way the Republicans have always been attacked, by quoting the acts and intentions of one set of men to prove the character of another

Details of Eastern News

Dates to August 19th.

We condense the following from the Sacramento Union

WASHINGTON, August 16th

Mr. Faulkner, ex-Minister to France, has been arrested and will be confined at Fort [illegible] for the present

Evidences of an advance of the enemy toward our lines are daily multiplying Yesterday a resident from Virginia living near Claremont, [illegible] from Alexandria reports the rebels at Bush Hill and Claremont

The efforts of the rebels to gather Maryland into the Secession fold have not been abandoned. General Tilghman who was deposed from his military rank last Spring by Governor Hicks, and subsequently resigned, by the State Legislature is organizing the disunionists in the lower counties of Maryland. He is about to proceed to Accomac to take command of the Virginia forces there and march them up into the middle of the eastern shore of Maryland as the nucleus for the formation of a rebel army there which shall, if it can do nothing else, control the elections in the fall so as to secure a disunion majority in the Legislature and enable the Secessionists to pass a Secession ordinance, or perhaps to throw an ordinance of Secession that may be passed by the present Legislature and its adjourned session session.

ST LOUIS, Aug. 16.—Gen. Sigel was near Rolla, and had not been attacked by McCulloch.

Gen Lyon was buried near Springfield on Col Phelps' farm.

The rebels were reported around Springfield

CAIRO, Aug. 16.—Gen. Pillow was supposed to be at Sikeston—thirty five miles below Cairo.

There were few Secession forces at New Madrid.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16.—An extra of the Houston Telegraph, of the 10th, reports a fight on the 25th of July, between Colonel Baylor's command and Federal troops, at Fort Fillmore, resulting in the defeat of the latter, with thirty killed and wounded—two Lieutenants killed, Southerners unhurt The Federals fled and were pursued and the whole command taken prisoners—five hundred in number.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The Grand Jury, in the United States Circuit Court, presented the Journal of Commerce, News, Day Book, Freeman's Journal and Brooklyn Eagle, for expressing sympathy with the rebels. They ask advice of the Court in matters, saying they will be glad to learn that their conduct is subject to indictment and punishment

NEW YORK, Aug 16.—The privateer Jeff Davis arrived at San Juan, Porto Rico, July 16th, for provisions and water

WASHINGTON, August 17th —The Confederate forces have nearly all fallen back to Fairfax Court House, and thus widening the distance separating the hostile forces The pickets of both armies, however, occupy nearly the same advanced positions as heretofore

A large number of fugitives from Virginia, men, women and children, in great distress, are daily passing through Western Virginia

The British brig of war Gladiator was yesterday evening off the Cape

A flag of truce yesterday conveyed Wheeler, formerly United States Minister to Nicaragua, to the Confederate pickets beyond Newmarket bridge.

A flag of truce put in from Norfolk with Corporal Hurlbut of the Confederate Regiment, released for attention to Col Gardner, after battle at Bull Run. He states that a considerable number of released prisoners including several chaplains will reach Old Point to-morrow. He thinks the Confederates are preparing to attack Fortress Monroe That measure is now popular in the Confederate camps, and appropriate material is being collected in large quantities at Norfolk The attack will be made within a week

A special to the New York Post Washington, August 17th, says that a new battery has been erected by the enemy at a point a mile or two below Aquia Creek The rebels yesterday suddenly opened a fire on the steamer Pocahontas, but inflicted no damage This is the fourth battery which has been erected at that point Its situation is very near the shore of the river Officers report that unless Government takes immediate action to expel the rebels from these positions on the banks of the river, navigation will be completely closed The enemy's batteries already command a large part of the Potomac

LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 18 —The following rebel officers were killed or wounded in Lyon's great battle at Springfield Gen Price, slightly wounded, General Slack, severely Gen Weightman, killed, Lieut Colonel Austin killed, Colonel Brown killed, Capt Blackwood, Capt Engart and Lieut Hughes, killed, Capt. Bainbridge, severely wounded, and a great many more

WASHINGTON August 17 —The statement made several days ago that the Confederates were slowly moving their forces to the line of the Potomac with a view of entering Maryland and supporting the revolutionary spirit with ultimate designs on Washington is now reported with an increased assurance of its truth, with such evidence as cannot be disregarded.

WASHINGTON Aug. 18 —A special to the Tribune, says all the talk about a direct attack on Washington is mere feint to cover the real purpose, which is the closing of the lower Potomac and throwing a strong army across the river into Maryland and Charles counties, both of which are Secession This done they march on Annapolis, counting on a formidable rising of Maryland Secessionists

The Navy Department has advices that Commander Porter, of the St Mary's, Pacific squadron whose letter avowing rebel sympathy to his father in Virginia found its way to Washington is in irons, and will be here soon.

Secretary Welles expresses himself in favor of closing Southern ports by proclamation [illegible] We have the highest authority for saying that not one Government in Europe has remonstrated against closing the rebel ports.

The enemy's batteries down the river are assuming formidable proportions, and if they succeed in closing the navigation of the Potomac it will be hard to prevent them crossing into Maryland

The report of the death of Boteler, [illegible] Representative to Congress from Virginia, is incorrect It was his son who was wounded at Bull's Run, and died of lockjaw. Boteler himself, it is stated has been arrested by the armed band who seized Harper's Ferry Armory on the 18th of April last.

Close reconnoissances indicate that the rebels are closing in on our lines. The city is full of Secession rumors to day We have various accounts of the rapid and near approach of from 170 000 to 200,000 rebels under Beauregard, Johnston and Jeff. Davis But all agree that they are coming down immediately on Washington. Our military gentlemen don't seem to be alarmed.

The London Daily News denounces the Times' criticism but says nothing has happened which was not anticipated as possible. All journals think the events have closed the door of compromise and must embitter and prolong the struggle

A Paris letter says that the success of the Southerners powerfully operated on the Parisian opinion in favor of the Southerners.

IRONTON Mo, August 17th.—Messengers bring information that Col Porter, who left Thursday evening with his regiment, surprised a body of 400 rebels near Fredericktown early yesterday morning, captured all their camp equipments, and ate the breakfast which they had just prepared, twelve prisoners were taken

Gen Prentiss has arrived and taken command of all the forces in this section.

ROLLA, Mo., August 18th —Captain [illegible]met McDonald was in town to day. He reports Capt Chas C Rogers, aid to Gov. Jackson and Capt Stephen O Coleman, both of St Louis, killed in the battle of the 10th.

Gen Sigel received his commission as Brigadier General on Saturday, and assumed command of the Federal forces here yesterday.

McDonald was escorted beyond the lines yesterday, and sent on his way to Springfield. He no doubt gained much valuable information of the strength, position of our forces etc, as it is said he had the freedom of the camp under his flag of truce

Our wounded at Springfield are reported to be doing well

NEW TO-DAY.

CITY.

ARRIVED—Messrs L D Buchanan and M Paddler, of this city returned night before last from the Oro Fino Gold mines, by water, in a small boat constructed by them at Sturr & Co's. saw mill, recently erected in the Nez Perces country. The distance from Oro Fino to this city is some 480 and they occupied about two weeks in making the trip, including portages

CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held at Father Kelly's camp grounds, commencing to morrow afternoon and continuing over Sunday

CHANGE OF STEAMERS.—The steamer Express, Capt James Strang, will take the place of the Rival, commencing this morning at eleven o'clock—making a trip and a half per day

TREASURE EXPORTS.—The steamer Cortes sailed yesterday evening at 5 o clock, with $20,000 worth of dust.

EXPORTS PER STEAMER CORTES.—92 bbls butter, 3 bxs butter, 9 bbls cider, 1200 q sks flour, 12 bbls eggs, 9 bxs eggs, 6 half bbl eggs, 383 bxs apples, 57 sks seed, 14 rolls leather, 4 bbls lard, 6 coop chickens, 4 cases mdse, 3 sks bacon, 5 horses

THE MILITARY OUTPOURING OF THE UNITED STATES.—On this subject the London Times exclaims:

The citizens of the United States may well be proud of their new army. More than 40 years of peace, broken only by such interruptions as the Mexican war and the expedition to Utah, have not in the least degree blunted their military spirit. It is impossible to read the report of the Secretary of War to the President, without being reminded of those ancient democracies in which the whole adult population would sally out to repel foreign aggression, and the richer citizens would contribute freely to pay the expenses of the war. If Republican institutions are indeed on their trial, it is not at this point that they will break down.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT.—The conduct of the late Acting-Governor McGill, of Washington Territory, is heartily approved by the people of that section. He succeeded the traitor Gholson. We hail him as a true Union man

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR L J CZAPKAY is already situated in a position which places it as well as its proprietor far above the insults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest rewards are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science and they occupy with others an equally high position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country as [illegible] of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors Dr L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has been so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor still offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the building of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L J CZAPKAY M D San Francisco Cal June26dwly

CELEBRATED

CHEMICAL SOFT SOAP

THE CHEAPEST, MOST ECONOMICAL AND LABOR-saving soap ever discovered.

PATENTED OCTOBER, 1860.

This Soap recommends itself for the following reasons: It is not only the best soap in use for the wash-tub and the toilet, but it is far the cheapest; washing is performed with half the labor required by other soaps; it removes all pitch, tar and grease from woolen and cotton goods; in a word, is the great desideratum of the age.

☞ Put up in five and ten gallon cans. Each can warranted to make sixty and one hundred and twenty pounds respectively.

Full directions for making accompany each can.

"This soap will work its way into every laundry, bath room and kitchen in the United States."—Providence Journal.

"No family should be without this truly excellent soap, as it is not only the best but cheapest soap in use."—Boston Journal.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsams. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health; for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-Abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having recovered their health, [illegible]

While in this state, and having previous to my sickness tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to seek the aid of a physician, and by recommendation called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances and of my inability to reward him for his services, in spite of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I received at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
